

Information on Sponsoring the Young Tribological Researcher Symposium

The international Young Tribological Researcher Symposium is organized by the Young Tribologists, a working group of the Gesellschaft für Tribologie e.V. (GfT). It is specifically aimed at young tribologists who would like to gain experience in public speaking and presenting their research, while also benefiting from the professional network of the tribology community. In addition, the presenter of the best talk will receive the opportunity to attend the major annual tribology conference of the GfT in Wernigerode free of charge. To make such a symposium possible for young tribologists, we are highly dependent on sponsors. The sponsorship conditions are listed below.

- Each sponsor contributes a minimum amount of 500€ + VAT.
- In the case of sponsorship, one (young) participant from the sponsoring company (with or without a presentation) may attend the symposium free of charge.
- The sponsor's logo will be included in the symposium flyer and program.
- Upon prior agreement, the logo and sponsorship may also be promoted digitally (e.g., on the website or via LinkedIn).
- Sponsors may display flyers or similar materials during the symposium.

If you would like to support us or have any further questions regarding sponsorship, please feel free to contact us by email at young-tribologists@gft-ev.de.

We greatly appreciate your support!
